IT'S GETTING WORSE

"More than 317 million new pieces of malware -- computer viruses or other malicious software -- were created last year. That means nearly one million new threats were released each day...'While it seems like a no brainer for fix some of these things, organizations care more about making widgets,' SAID VERIZON SECURITY DATA SCIENTIST BOB RUDIS

IT'S A TOUGH DIGITAL WORLD OUT THERE

An unmanaged computer is an open door for computer hackers and predators. You wouldn't leave work with your front door wide open for robbers to come and go as they please, so why would you treat your PC environment that way? Times are changing and your computer assets can no longer be ignored. Just turn on the TV, radio, or pick up a paper and you hear about PC threats happening every day. Not only are CIOs responsible for a breach; increasingly, CEOs, CFOs and COOs share the burden – and the blame.

Don't be a victim - get protected with RocketMS
